

An Introduction to Picture and Archive Communication System (PACS)

By Greg Girard

This comprehensive introductory course is perfect for those who require fundamental knowledge of PACS and has been updated from the previous hardcopy version. Author Greg Girard simplifies technical subject matter with a straightforward approach. Discover just exactly what PACs is and how it came to be. Explore its impact of workflow in imaging departments and the importance of efficient workstations and quality control programs. Learn about the role of PACS in teleradiology and the planning required for implementation of a PACS. Each module contains self-study questions for which answers are provided. All course materials and the final quiz will be accessible online. Upon finishing the quiz, learners will receive an OAMRT Certificate of Completion. Estimated Time for Completion: 6 hours

For further information, please call 1-800-387-4674, extension 126 or email coordinator@oamrt.on.ca.